Project: Leadership and Management Development

Organisation: Campbelltown City Council

Project date: 2010 – ongoing

Semann & Slattery have been engaged by Campbelltown City Council to offer a range of professional learning programs specific to leadership, management and team building. Working across a range of Council Departments including the Arts, Leisure and Child and Family Services, these programs have included a range of specialised content and tailored approaches so to ensure the objectives of each of these programs are met to the highest standards. For a number of these programs individual and group coaching and action research methodology was integrated into the learning.
